

Flexible Document Control

In many areas of the system (e.g. purchase order line items, inventory items, etc), the user will be able to assign a predefined document code within a record. A document code points to one or more actual documents, images or web sites. With an assigned document, a user will be able to display images, text or to navigate to an external web site to see customer or vendor data, from within an edit screen.

For more information, connect to: <http://www.lamarsoftware.com/>